The institute was established in 1960, as one among the first eight Regional Engineering Colleges (RECs) by the Government of India. In 2003, the institute was converted to the National Institute of Technology by an act of the parliament and in 2007, it was declared as an Institute of National Importance.

We have been imparting quality education since the inception of the institute by focusing on technical advancements and research. ABOUT SRINAGAR CITY

Srinagar city, the capital of Jammu and Kashmir Union Territory is situated in the Northern region of the Indian Subcontinent. The City is located on both the sides of the Jhelum River, which is called Vyeth in Kashmir. Srinagar is famous for its nine old bridges, connecting the two parts of the city. It is at an elevation of 5,200 feet and is famous for its gardens, lakes and houseboats. Srinagar is called the city of lakes and the Venice of the East, fascinating tourists from centuries with its beautiful picturesque Himalayan backdrop, glittering lakes that are surrounded by houseboats and Shikaras and the majesty of Mughal architecture. The very absence of order in the location of the houses and their tumbled down appearance adds a peculiar charm to the scenery. It has its own quaint lifestyle, telling a panoramic fairytale through the snowcapped mountains and Chinar trees, while enjoying the adventurous pleasures of hiking, mountain biking, and rafting. It is also known for traditional Kashmiri handicrafts and dried fruits. It is well connected via Air, Road and Rail.
